

Contributors

Dan Gawrecki was born in 1943 in Frýdek, graduate of History-Russian, PhDr. (PU Olomouc 1965, 1968), CSc. (ČSAV Prague 1975), habilitation (UK Bratislava 1996), professor (2006, Warsaw); employed: Slezský ústav ČSAV Opava (1968–1991), Slezská univerzita Opava (1992–2008), Uniwersytet Opolski (2006–2013). Focus: national minorities in Central Europe in between 1740–1938, the history of Silesia (1740–1938). Works: Politické a národnostní poměry v Těšínském Slezsku 1918–1938, Český Těšín 1999; Dějiny Českého Slezska 1740–2000, 2 vol. Opava 2003 (the leader of an authorial team); Geschichte Oberschlesiens. Politik, Wirtschaft und Kultur von den Anfängen bis zur Gegenwart. (Hg. von J. Bahlcke, D. Gawrecki, R. Kaczmarek). Oldenburg 2015. Email: dan.gawrecki@seznam.cz

Tomáš Gecko, is a student of Ph.D. program at Institute of Economic and Social History, Faculty of Arts, Charles University. His research is concerned with the monopolization and cartelization of the building materials market in Central Europe from the 19th to the first half of the 20th century (especially the cement, lime and bricks production). Email: TomasGecko@seznam.cz

Daniel Hadwiger, Studies of History and European Literature at the University of Mainz, Dijon, Tübingen and Aix-Marseille 2009–2014. Since 2014 Dissertation about the “Nationalsozialistische Volkswohlfahrt and the French Secours National during the Second World War in a transnational comparison” at the University of Tübingen. Email: daniel.hadwiger@student.uni-tuebingen.de

Tomáš Hemza, is a Ph.D. student in the Institute of Social and Economic History at the Faculty of Arts, Charles University, Prague. His research is primarily on topics in modern Czech history, particularly the history of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia. Email: Tomas.Hemza@seznam.cz

Andrea Pokludová works as an Associate Professors of Department of Art History and Cultural Heritage and Researcher of Centre for Economic and Social History

(University of Ostrava). Fields of Research: Urban history of 19th and 20th Century; Comparative history of Free Profession (Bildungsbürgertum, the Inteligentsia); Nationalism and Free Profession in the 19th and 20th century, History of public health in the 19th and 20th century. Her current research seeks to revise the ways in which we understand the history of the development public health at the end of the 19th and during the first half of the 20th century.

Email: Andrea.Pokludova@osu.cz

