

Contributors

Ivan Jakubec, professor of economic history at the Institute of Economic and Social History, Faculty of Arts, Charles University (Prague). He deals with modern economic history of 19–20th centuries, history of foreign trade, history of technology, history of transport and infrastructure, recently with history of tourism in Protectorate Bohemia and Moravia in the years 1939–1945.
Mail: ivan.jakubec@ff.cuni.cz

Timur Kashapov was graduated from High school 115 in Ufa, Russia in 2001. Moved to Prague in 2002, studied at The High School of Economics in 2002–2008. Holder of Engineer Diploma in economic policy and economic history. Work as freelancer and translator at TIMART s. r. o. company. Postgraduate student at Charles University's Institute of economic and social history since 2015.

Domenica La Banca is working to the Italian Agency for the Evaluation of Universities and Research Centers. Her researches are concerned with topics in modern social history, the history of welfare state policies and institutions. Her publication activities include many essays and a monography: Welfare in transizione. L'esperienza dell'Onmi (1943–1950), [Welfare in Transition: The Experience of Onmi], Naples 2013.
Mail: nicablanca@tiscali.it

Bohumil Melichar is a student of social history within the Master's course at the Institute of Economic and Social History, Faculty of Arts, Charles University (Prague). His research is concerned with modern radical political parties and social movements, with particular reference to interwar Communist Party of Czechoslovakia.
Mail: bMelichar@seznam.cz

Dimitri Michalopoulos holds a Ph.D. from the "École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales" (Paris, 1978). He was assistant professor in History at the University of Salonica (1982–1994), professor of History at the Naval War College of Greece (1989–1997), and the Director of the Museum of the City of Athens (1990–2000). Currently he works as an academic cooperator with the Institute of Hellenic Maritime History.
Mail: dimitri.michalopoulos@aol.com

Jan Štemberk is concerned with the Tourism and Transport History. He has published numerous studies and also three monographs. After having studied at Charles University he has been cooperating with the University of Business in Prague (the department of Social Sciences).

Mail: stemberk@vso-praha.eu

Barbora Štolleová works as an assistant professor and post-doctoral researcher at the Institute of Social and Economic history at the Faculty of Arts, Charles University (Prague). Her research is concerned with modern economic history in the 19th and 20th century in the Bohemian Lands and Central Europe with particular reference to agriculture and business history.

Mail: bhoffmannova@yahoo.com